

Critical Conversations Workshop

Following his keynote, Phil facilitates an interactive discussion around the critical conversations you are tackling today and find practical ways of overcoming common conversational obstacles.

This is not about the delivery of content, it's about creating a lasting change towards the predetermined desired results. You probably have inefficiencies in your world that can be significantly improved, and every workshop is laser focused on making an immediate positive impact.

Practical next steps and applicable new skills is the goal. Not just theory and fluff, these are trainings that have people ready to take action instantly.
