

Rehumanize the Workplace: The Language of Connection and Courage

This keynote explores how intentional, everyday language can reshape culture, foster inclusion, and reconnect people across teams, locations, and roles.

Audience: Executive leadership, people managers, employee experience designers

Theme: Belonging, safety, and culture through intentional communication

Key takeaways:

- Understand how words shape psychological safety
- Use language to build bridges in hybrid and remote teams
- Spot invisible moments that shape inclusion
- Shift from compliance-based to connection-based leadership
- Encourage vulnerable dialogue without losing authority
- Cultivate language rituals that build community and trust
